INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this study is to investigate the effect of the concentration of the solution on the rate of reaction. The reaction studied is the reaction between potassium dichromate and potassium iodide in the presence of hydrochloric acid. The rate of reaction is measured by the time taken for the solution to turn from orange to colorless. The results show that the rate of reaction increases with increasing concentration of the solution.

QUARTERLY REVIEW.

The historical matter which this bulletin contains is, for the most part, taken from the old muster rolls of volunteer companies raised in Arkansas and "called into the service of the United States by the President under the act of Congress, approved May 13, 1846. for the term of twelve months, unless sooner discharged."

Our Personal Interest.

There ought to be in its pages some things of personal interest to many people in Arkansas. At the end of twelve months, probably a few days before the one-year term of enlistment had expired, the Arkansas Regiment was mustered out. Meanwhile it had taken part in one notable battle of the war, the battle of Buena Vista, fought February 23, 1847. Those who survived the campaign of 1847, most of them at least, returned that summer to their homes in Arkansas, where they still have many descendants.

Familiar Names.

Not a few of the names that appear on these old company rolls are familiar to those of us who know something of our State history. If not in connection with the war in Mexico, certainly we have all heard not less than a dozen of them because of their association with subsequent events in the history of the State. In the list will be found such names as Yell, Pike, Borland, Roane, Adams, Fagan, Searcy, Woodruff, Gray, Johnson, Imboden, Scott, Stewart, Danley, English, and others that ought to be known to every child of school age in Arkansas.

Items of Real History.

A few items of general interest from sources other than the muster rolls have been incorporated. The additional matter is taken, as indicated in each case, from some contemporary source of information. The language is quoted word for word, left intact to tell in its own way of some incident that had to do with the mustering of troops in Arkansas or with their services in Mexico. As told by the papers and extracts from official documents, we have an account of some things that happened by eye-witnesses, related while the circumstances were still fresh in the memory.

It is to be understood, as a matter of course, that no claim is made of having exhausted the subject. That which is added after the roster was put in as a sort of appendix, to be used, primarily, as a starting point or suggestive guide to other material, which is to be had about Arkansas and the Mexican War.

An Opportunity for Public Service.

As the months have passed, the everyday demands on the time of the secretary have greatly increased. In other words, many personal requests for information of an historical nature have to be answered from day to day and from week to week. When not employed by this service or with other ordinary work, doing whatever has to be done to collect and arrange in a systematic manner many kinds of historical material, the secretary is actively engaged at some special task, which the Commission is authorized or required by law to do.

Other Rosters in Preparation.

The preparation of this bulletin represents but a small part of the actual work that has been done to carry out the larger aim of the Commission "to prepare and publish a roster of all troops from Arkansas in all wars in which our people have participated."

The Original Muster Rolls.

This roster of Arkansas volunteers for service in Mexico is a copy of the original muster rolls. The information which it contains is original in the sense that it is taken from official reports, the identical documents, which were made out and returned to the War Department by the mustering officers at muster-in and at muster-out or by inspection officers at other times during the term of service.

These rolls are in the archives of the War Department at Washington City. Under the rules of the department, enforced for the protection of such records, "historical investigators of recognized standing" are allowed to examine and make copies of them. By courtesy of the Adjutant General, the Arkansas History Commission is so recognized.

Taking advantage of the privilege, we have had photographic copies made of certain rolls that were required before this roster of our Mexican War soldiers could be prepared. By means of the photographic process, which is now in common use, every detail, even to the most minute peculiarities of the original document, are reproduced with perfect accuracy.

These photographs with a few rolls that were copied by hand for Governor Simon P. Hughes in 1887, are now on file in the archives of the History Commission, where they are kept as official State papers and where they may be consulted under the personal supervision of the secretary.

How the Work Was Done.

The facts which appear here after each soldier's name were gleaned by a careful sifting of many notations set down opposite each name on all the old rolls. There are from two to six rolls for each of the seventeen companies, all made out on different occasions. No two of them quite agree in every particular. Each roll has some additional information not found on the others. After diligent searching, many times repeated with much transcribing, the really informing facts simmer down to just about what is printed in the following pages.

This task and others of much greater importance, which the Commission is attempting to do, are performed as a labor of public service, with one chief aim in view—as an aid to knowledge of our own affairs, that our people may know more of their own history, a history calculated to inspire pride in our State, to increase our consciousness of worth and to fill us with hopes for the future.

It is no part of the plan or purpose, in the special efforts that are made to save our military history, to create false ideals of the glories of military achievements. On the contrary, the purpose of the Commission's work, in this and in all that it undertakes to do, would better be to use the information which our history affords to find out for ourselves more enlightened ways of working out our destiny as a people bound together by a century of local tradition and history.

We would not be bound down by traditions that our people have outgrown. But we would become more familiar with the facts and the trend of our own local history, because such familiarity should help us to see how, in a thousand ways, we may best serve our own interests and the common interest of the community of which we are a part, and whose welfare is likewise our own individual welfare. Who will deny the duty to be so informed? Who will say that it is a matter of no importance whatever to him whether or not these things should ever be done at all? It is simply unthinkable that any loyal, thoughtful, forward-looking Arkansan should so think and so act.

ARKANSAS AT BUENA VISTA.

The call for volunteers to go to Mexico was promptly answered in Arkansas. Several companies in excess of the number asked for by the Government arrived at Washington in Hempstead county, the place for muster-in, within a very short time. Hundreds of other men were on the waiting list, so to speak, anxious to offer their services should more troops be required.

For all their inexperience and lack of military training, the volunteers who went from Arkansas, bore the hardships of a difficult campaign—rarely do the reports show an exception—in a manner that won praise from their officers and excited the admiration of friends and neighbors at home.

The gallant conduct of the American army on the battlefield at Buena Vista made General Taylor the popular hero of the war. Old Rough and Ready, a title of esteem which the soldiers gave him, described just the figure of a military hero to thrill the masses. Stories of the engagement and the decisive results of the victory are celebrated in American history as a national tradition, which patriotic Americans have loved to tell and to hear told from that day to this.

The Americans were outnumbered four to one by the enemy. The defeat of Santa Anna and his Mexicans at an opportune moment and under adverse circumstances, established a new tradition of the fighting capacity of the American volunteer soldier. The Arkansas troops helped to make the history of Buena Vista what it is. Colonel Yell and his comrades were distinguished by honorable mention for their courageous action at a critical moment in the battle.

News of the victory called forth many expressions of patriotic enthusiasm throughout the country. In the South, where the war was universally popular, a great clamor of popular applause went up. The people of Arkansas, though saddened by the news of Colonel Yell's death, rejoiced over the fame of their troops, and expressed their patriotic emotions in public meeting places and by resolution. The history and tradition made by American soldiers on the 23d day of February, 1847, belong to Arkansas in part by right of achievement and through sacrifice of blood.

In all the years since, no other name has been more highly esteemed by the people of Arkansas than that of Archibald Yell. Tradition has made him illustrious. His memory, doubtless, is entitled to the fame which his name has borne. But there were other gallant soldiers from Arkansas at Buena Vista. None is so illustrious. But none was so favored as he by fortunate and conspicuous position. Traditions tell, tradition which is corroborated by evidence contained in the old muster rolls, how this man and that man, and so on to the end of the list of officers and privates, were loyal and faithful in the performance of duties which fell to every man's lot according to his rank. The accident of subordinate rank has left in obscurity many names doubtless worthy of place in the history of the State, not less deserving of public esteem than that of the gallant commander.

THE WESTERN FRONTIER—MEXICO AND THE INDIANS.

One has only to look over the old files of the "Arkansas Gazette" or the "Arkansas Advocate" for a few months in almost any year from 1835 to 1845 to understand why the people of Arkansas were eager to go to war with Mexico. Rarely did the papers appear without news of the revolution in Texas and expressions of sympathy with the struggle of Americans there for independence.

David Crockett arrived in Little Rock November 12, 1835, on his way to Texas, "where," as the editor of the Advocate expressed it, "he expects to end his days." While he rested from his journey, citizens of the town honored him with a public dinner at the Jeffries Hotel, "because," so the Gazette facetiously reported, "he can whip his weight in wild cats and grin a panther out of the highest tree." The distinguished visitor made a "funny" speech, was blunt, natural and pleasant, and made friends of everybody who heard him. Toasts were drunk to his health and happiness in his future home, and the wish expressed and roundly applauded that Texas might soon become a State in the Union.

But, aside from the universal sympathy that was felt on account of friends and neighbors who had moved on to Texas, Arkansas had grievances on its own account to settle with Mexico. The declaration of war made just the opportunity which the people had long wanted. Settlements along the western border, especially those in the southwest, had been kept in a state of never-ending anxiety year after year through fear of an attack by hostile Indians. If we may trust the reports which have come down to us, murder and outrage were not uncommon. All sorts of rumors calculated to inflame the imagination were in constant circulation. Mexico was held to blame for much of this trouble. Agents of the Mexican government were accused of plotting to incite the Indians to massacre the white population and overrun the western counties of Arkansas.

The United States was forced to build new forts on the frontier and send more troops from time to time to hold the Indians in check. In spite of such measures of precaution, petitions and prayers were regularly sent to Congress for further protection. More than one administration was severely criticised for doing too little, as the critics thought, to protect the people of Arkansas.

Suspicion and public indignation were quite general in the summer of 1836. So great did the danger seem to be that Governor Fulton thought the time had come to act, and accordingly he called for volunteers to go to the border. Five companies were promptly raised, one each in the counties, Pulaski, Pope, Conway, Hempstead and Saline. They assembled at Washington late in August, formed themselves into a battalion, elected Absolem Fowler Lieutenant Colonel and set out for Fort Towson on Sunday morning, September 3.

But more troops were wanted for the business which seemed inevitable, and a second call was made about September 1. Washington county was asked to raise three companies. The allotment of Jackson and Independence was two companies between them, one of infantry and one of cavalry. Izard and Searcy were expected to raise another company.

The counties of Carroll, Lawrence, Crawford, Johnson and Scott were asked to furnish one company each. The volunteers from Washington, Crawford, Scott and Johnson were ordered to march as soon as possible to Fort Coffee and the rest to Fayetteville.

Volunteers from more than half the counties in Arkansas were either mustering or marching in September, 1836, when the Legislature met to inaugurate the first Governor of the State and enact laws under the new Constitution.

Tuesday, September 13, was set by the Legislature for the inauguration. The day was one of great rejoicing. A meeting of citizens was called on Monday, the 12th, to arrange a patriotic demonstration. Early in the afternoon on Tuesday several hundred citizens of the town and surrounding country gathered at the "old courthouse," formed a parade under the directions of a grand marshal and his assistants, and marched to the Governor's residence, where a committee waited on His Excellency to inform him that his fellow-citizens were waiting in the street to escort him to the Capitol. Everybody turned out to witness the parade to the Statehouse. At the appointed hour, 3 o'clock, members of the two houses filled the Hall of Representatives, while the spectators packed the gallery to overflowing. The inauguration over, the parade formed again and escorted the Governor back to his home.

It so happened that two companies of soldiers, the Lawrence county volunteers and the Randolph Mounted Rifles, marched into town on Friday or Saturday on their way to the frontier. They were induced to wait over Sunday and Monday to take part in the parade. At precisely the moment when Governor Conway finished repeating the words prescribed by the oath of office, the soldiers fired a salute of twenty-six guns to the Stars and Stripes.

In spite of all the parading and celebrating on Tuesday, the people were still in a patriotic mood on Wednesday. The visiting soldiers were still in Little Rock. Soldiers and citizens again met at the courthouse. Dr. F. A. McWilliams, on behalf of the citizens, made a patriotic address to the soldiers. The artillery answered "his eloquent appeal" with a salute of six guns. The crowd formed a procession. Led by Governor Conway and ex-Governor Fulton, they escorted the troops to the outskirts of town, where the soldiers "took up the line of march" to Fort Towson.

At 10 o'clock Tuesday morning the Senate and House had met in joint session to hear Governor Fulton's farewell address. He had no advice to give, no recommendations to make, as none was expected of him. He was there, he said, simply to speak to them, and through them to the people, of the gratitude he owed to both "for the cheering support" which he had at all times received in the discharge of public duties. He could not, however, pass this opportunity by without speaking his admiration for the volunteers marching at that moment to defend the lives and property of their neighbors:

"Since I became, under the Constitution, Governor of the State, the most important duty, which has devolved upon me has been the making of military preparations for the defense and protection of our exposed frontier. Its peace and security have been threatened by the war raging between Mexico and our neighbors and brethren of Texas. We have apprehended that a band of savage bloodhounds would be let loose upon our borders. This state of things, together with the establishment of so many powerful Indian tribes, immediately beyond our limits, and some of them at this time in open hostility without country, has placed us in a most perilous situation. Our country must now be convinced of the absolute necessity of making permanent and extensive defensive works all along the southwestern frontier of the Union. This conviction, it is hoped, will induce the National Government immediately to adopt the necessary measures for our safety and protection.

"At the call of their country, six companies of Arkansas volunteers have marched, and one other is ready to march, to the southern frontier. These brave defenders of our homes and firesides have gallantly stepped forward at my call. They are truly volunteers, and afford an admirable illustration of the truth of the assertion that freemen can and will defend themselves.

"Upon the requisition of General Arbuckle, another call has been made upon the patriotism of the citizens of the north and west, and already a portion of the volunteers are preparing to march; and I am happy to be able to say, that our young State has proved herself adequate to meet the military calls which have been made upon her.

"We may well feel proud of the intrepid spirit displayed by the chivalry of Arkansas. All those who have or may step forward in the defense, deserve and will receive the lasting honor and gratitude of their country."

By the last day of September all, or nearly all, the companies that were wanted had mustered and marched off to the frontier, each company to the objective point of its first marching orders. Seven companies, about 350 men, went into camp at Fort Towson in the Red river country, about fifty miles over the Arkansas border. The early reports from that quarter were most gratifying. The troops were drilling hard, were well and in fine spirits and would be ready in a few days to strike promptly, if the savages started on the rampage. Weeks passed and the Indians were still quiet and showed little disposition to make trouble. As winter came on the soldiers built log huts and prepared to go into winter quarters. With no fighting to do they soon began to quarrel among themselves. The discontent continued until one day in February, when an order came for the officer in command to discharge them and send them home. Meanwhile the wave of excitement which spread over the community some six months before had passed away.

On a certain Thursday in November, 1836, the steamboat "John Nelson" tied up at the Little Rock landing for a few hours to buy rations and other supplies. The boat had on board 900 Creek Indians with Lieutenant J. T. Sprague, United States Marine Corps, in command. One who saw them from shore while the boat lay near the landing said they were vile, filthy beasts. The old chief was sullen and ugly, though not ungraceful. Two or three days later another party of 900 was due to pass up the Arkansas by boat. Still another and another, Captain Bateman's company of 2,500 and Lieutenant Sevier's company of 3,600, camped twenty-five miles north of Little Rock on Thursday only the week before. Lieutenant Dea's party of 2,600, Colonel Campbell's 2,800 and still others were yet to follow. The inflammable material, as one observer expressed it, was fast pouring over the Arkansas border.

The John Nelson went on its way, other boats came and went, bearing Indians to the western country, and seemingly nobody gave the matter more than a passing thought, until the following spring. In March, just after the volunteers came home, there were more signs of growing discontent, suspicion and fear of the Indians. The Government's Indian policy was said to promise dire calamities to the people of Arkansas. How long, asked the editor of the Advocate, will Congress leave us to the tender mercies of the savage hordes pouring over our frontier? The General Government goes on crowding thousands of exasperated savages upon our western border, tribes hostile to one another, and agreeing in only one thing—hatred of the white man. At the present rate, all tribes east of the Mississippi—Creeks, Cherokees and Seminoles—will soon be removed to the West, and a mere handful of regular troops is expected to hold them in subjection. "Two thousand warriors could desolate Arkansas, could sweep it from its western frontier to the Mississippi river, could strike it out of the roll of States. No power in the State and none now west of it could hinder them."

Appeals to Congress fell on dull ears. Still the savages came by thousands. The exposed condition of the frontier was allowed to continue with "only a nominal force" to protect it. The Government could not or would not increase its little squad of regulars to a standing army of 2,000 men. This, the malcontents thought, was the minimum of what it ought to be. The people of Arkansas were told, in so many words, to defend themselves as best they could. The dreadful things which were foretold, as likely to happen some fine day, never came to pass. How great the Indian peril really was matters but little at this late day. Whether any of the crimes committed against citizens of Arkansas were due to Mexican influence we may never know. That the effect of all this continual agitation was demoralizing we may be certain. That much of the ill will bred by it was directed against Mexico is equally certain.

The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the car was the cold. It was a sharp contrast to the warm blanket I had been sitting under. I looked up at the sky, which was a pale, hazy blue. The air was crisp and clean, a welcome change from the stuffy interior of the car. I took a deep breath, feeling the cool air fill my lungs. The sun was just beginning to rise, casting a soft, golden glow over the landscape. The trees were still, their branches bare and reaching out towards the sky. The ground was covered in a thin layer of snow, which glistened in the morning light. I felt a sense of peace and tranquility, a moment of stillness in a world that was always in motion. I walked slowly, my boots crunching on the snow. The silence was broken only by the sound of my own footsteps and the occasional rustle of a branch. I felt a sense of freedom, a sense of being alone in a beautiful world. The morning air was invigorating, and I felt a renewed sense of purpose. I knew that this was a special moment, a moment that I would never forget. I took another deep breath, feeling the cold air fill my lungs. The sun was higher now, and the light was brighter. The world was waking up, and I felt a sense of hope and optimism. I smiled, feeling a sense of joy and contentment. This was a beautiful morning, and I was lucky to be here. I walked on, feeling a sense of peace and tranquility. The world was waking up, and I felt a sense of hope and optimism. I smiled, feeling a sense of joy and contentment. This was a beautiful morning, and I was lucky to be here.

THEORY OF THE EARTH

The theory of the earth is a branch of geology which deals with the origin and development of the earth and its various parts. It is a science which seeks to explain the causes of the various geological phenomena which we observe in nature. The theory of the earth is a very old science, and it has been the subject of much speculation and controversy. In the early days of the world, men believed that the earth was created by the gods, and that it was the work of the gods to create the various parts of the earth. But as time went on, men began to see that the earth was not created by the gods, but that it was the work of natural forces. And so the theory of the earth began to develop. It is a science which is still in its infancy, and it is one which is of great importance to us. For it is the theory of the earth which tells us how the earth came to be, and how it is changing all the time.

NOTE.—“This company was originally organized in 1846, but did no service in the early part of its organization excepting through a detail of twenty men ordered by General Mathew Arbuckle to Dripping Springs and Fort Wayne to protect some Cherokee families who had gathered there during the Ross-Ridge troubles.

“The officers and privates of the company at that time, so far as can be ascertained, were as follows: J. H. Felch, Captain; Charles Russell, First Lieutenant; Thomas Conway, Second Lieutenant. Privates: Russell Mott, I. Hood, W. W. Gillihan, Moodys (three brothers), Miles Harper, F. H. Smith, Victor Sorrels, G. Beebe, Pet Jones, Vaughn (three brothers), Bluford Reeder, Jeff Maltby, Peter Lewis, and Calvin Evans.

“After the brief service above mentioned the company was reorganized at Fort Smith. Allen Woods was elected Captain and J. H. H. Felch, First Lieutenant. The new company was known as Company “C,” 12th U. S. Infantry; M. L. Bonham, Colonel; General Franklin Pierce’s Division.

“The company was recruited at Fort Smith and Huntsville, about half in each place, and went from Fort Smith to New Orleans by boat and by ship from New Orleans to Vera Cruz, from which latter place it marched to the city of Mexico.”

(The information contained in this note, and also the roster of Captain Woods’ company, was furnished the Commission by Mr. J. F. Weaver of Fort Smith, Arkansas.)

ARKANSAS CALLED UPON TO FURNISH ONE REGIMENT CAVALRY FOR THE WAR WITH MEXICO, AND ONE BATTALION TO PROTECT THE FRONTIER.

After twenty years of repeated acts of bad faith, on the part of the Republic of Mexico, toward our Government, hostilities have commenced upon the soil of the United States, and before a declaration of war had been made in either nation. Congress, on the 13th day of May, passed an act authorizing the President to accept the services of 50,000 volunteers for the purpose of invading that republic. Among the States called upon, Arkansas was required to furnish one regiment of cavalry for that service, and, one battalion for the protection of the frontier of our State—the regular military force having been withdrawn from that quarter. Without any means in the treasury, or credit on the part of the State, to provide for the maintenance of troops, our citizens responded to the call with an alacrity highly creditable to their patriotism and valor; and such was their ardor for the service, that more than the quota of the requisition were speedily enrolled and ready for the expedition. They never paused to inquire as to their indemnity for the loss of time, the expenditure of money, or the probable chance of failure to be received into the service. One company marched 250 miles to the place of rendezvous, and returned home, dependent upon their own means, and the hospitality of the people for their subsistence. Instances like these, occurring as they have, in most States as well as ours, must be gratifying to the patriot, and give a flattering earnest of the answer the country might expect when she calls upon her citizen-soldiery. They afford also the best evidence of our moral and physical power as a nation, and the individual courage and devotion to country, for which our population has ever been distinguished. It is a spectacle upon which the enslaved millions of the old world must look with wonder, and can not fail to awaken their attention to the progress of that great experiment of a "government by the people," which our example furnishes to mankind.

(House Journal, General Assembly, Arkansas, p. 5, Appendix, Message of Governor Drew, November 3, 1846.)

ARKANSAS HAD MORE THAN ITS QUOTA OF VOLUNTEERS.

The following joint Resolution:

Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas, That our Senators in Congress be instructed, and our Representatives requested to use all honorable means to procure the passage of a law by Congress, granting compensation to the several volunteer companies which rendezvous at Washington, Hempstead county, in obedience to the call of the Secretary of War, for volunteers for the Mexican War, and who were not mustered into service. Was taken up, read and passed.

(House Journal, General Assembly, Arkansas, p. 182, December 4, 1846.)

Mr. Howard introduced the following:

Resolved, That the Governor of this State, under a requisition from the Commander-in-Chief of the United States, for twelve companies of volunteers, to enter the service of the United States, against Mexico, did, in the early part of 1846, issue his proclamation, calling upon the citizens of this State to enter said service, and rendezvous at Washington, Hempstead county; and whereas a larger number of companies than was called for, formed themselves into companies and marched to and in the direction of the place of rendezvous, without any knowledge of the excess so formed; and whereas, also, said supernumerary companies of volunteers necessarily incurred great expense and great loss of time;

Be It Resolved, That our Senators and Representatives in Congress be requested to use their best endeavors to procure Congress to make an appropriation to cover all the necessary expenses of those companies.

Which was adopted.

(House Journal, Seventh Session, General Assembly, Arkansas, p. 107, November 28, 1848.)

Mr. Childers, from the select committee to whom was referred the petition of C. W. Halcomb, a citizen of Lawrence county, praying relief as a volunteer in the United States Army, reported that said committee deemed it inexpedient for the General Assembly of this State to investigate or take cognizance of such claims, but that they are claims peculiarly proper to be investigated and passed upon by the Congress of the United States, and recommend the adoption of the following joint resolution.

Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas, That our Senators be instructed, and our Representatives in Congress, requested to use all proper exertions with the General Government, to compensate all those citizens of Arkansas, who left their homes under the Governor's proclamation calling for volunteers, and marched to different points and refused to be mustered in the service of the United States.

Which, said report and resolution was adopted.

CONGRESSMAN ARCHIBALD YELL LEFT HIS SEAT IN THE HOUSE TO VOLUNTEER FOR THE MEXICAN WAR.

The following communication was received from his excellency, Thomas S. Drew, by John R. Hampton, Esq.

Executive Office,
Little Rock, November 7, 1846.

To the Honorable Speaker of the House of Representatives of the State of Arkansas:

The novel position in which the executive is placed, in relation to a question involving the rights of the people of this State in the Congress of the United States, I hope will be sufficient apology upon my part, for calling on your honorable body for an expression of opinion advisory, in the absence of law and precedent (as far as I know), in the case to which I have allusion.

The Honorable Archibald Yell having been elected Colonel of Cavalry, to command the regiment raised by me under the requisition of the war department, and being mustered into the service of the United States, and ordered to the frontiers of Texas, without having given me notice of the resignation of his seat in the lower House of Congress; and from the last reports to be relied upon, this officer was marching toward or near the frontier of Mexico, and in all probability is now beyond the limits of the United States; and it may reasonably be supposed that unless steps are taken to cause an election to supply his place, the State of Arkansas may not be represented in the lower branch of Congress for and during the present session, which will commence on the first Monday in December next.

In the absence of any provision under the Constitution or of that of the laws of this State, to guide me in the performance of an important duty under a contingency not contemplated by either, nor for which do I know of any precedent; I most respectfully ask an expression of opinion of the Assembly, by joint resolution.

THOMAS S. DREW.

On motion of Mr. Brown, said communication was laid on the table until Monday next.

(House Journal, General Assembly, Arkansas, p. 36, November 7, 1846.)

Mr. Croft, from the select committee to whom was referred the communication of the Governor, communicating information to the House in regard to the Representative from Arkansas, Honorable Archibald Yell, made their report, accompanied by the following resolutions:

Resolved, That in the opinion of this House, the office of Representative in Congress from this State, is vacant, and that it is the duty of the Governor to order an election to fill said vacancy according to law.

Mr. Crutchfield offered a substitute for said resolution, which was read .....

The substitute was laid on the table.....

Mr. Croft then moved the adoption of the original resolution which was sustained.

BATTALION OF FIVE COMPANIES, CAVALRY AND INFANTRY, FOR FRONTIER DUTY, LIEUTENANT-COLONEL
WILLIAM GRAY COMMANDING.

Mr. Borland, from the Committee on Military Affairs, to which was referred House bill for the relief of the widow of the late Lieutenant Colonel William Gray, reported back the same without amendment, recommended its passage, and moved that it be now considered.....

Mr. Borland: A very few words will show the character of this bill, and then I think the Senate can pass it without any further debate. Lieutenant-Colonel William Gray, in the late war with Mexico, commanded a battalion on the western frontier. His command was a mixed one, consisting of three companies of mounted men and two companies of infantry. He is dead, and his widow asks that in the settlement of his accounts there may be allowed the difference between the pay of a Lieutenant-Colonel of Cavalry, and a Lieutenant-Colonel of Infantry, which amounts to $15 a month. It is a trifling sum.

The bill was then considered as in Committee of Whole; and no amendment having been proposed, it was reported to the Senate, ordered to a third reading, and was read a third time by unanimous consent and passed.

A MARBLE MONUMENT TO BE ERECTED ON THE CAPITOL SQUARE TO THE MEMORY OF COLONEL YELL AND HIS COMRADES WHO FELL IN BATTLE.

The chair announced that he held in his hand the following communication from the Governor:

Executive Office,
Little Rock, December 7, 1848.

To the Honorable E. A. Warren, Speaker of the House of Representatives:

Sir—It will be remembered that at a call of his country, a distinguished public servant, who had filled the highest post of honor within the gift of the people in our beloved State, and who had also been repeatedly honored with a seat in the National councils, left that high position, and as a common volunteer soldier, joined the ranks in one of the companies organized in this city; who, at the rendezvous, was by an almost unanimous voice, placed in command of the cavalry regiment that marched from this State to Mexico, and when there, on the 23d of February, 1847, in the language of the commander-in-chief, at the notable battle Buena Vista, "gallantly fell at the head of his regiment."

The State has not boasted a more faithful public servant, nor the army a more gallant soldier than that of Colonel Archibald Yell. Individual prepossessions and promptings, with individual means, having restored his remains to his home, where they find a resting place in this his adopted State.

The stranger looks in vain around our capitol for a memento consecrated to the memory of one so distinguished.

South Carolina may well be proud of her Butler, and so may Kentucky of a Clay, and Illinois of a Hardin; and I am confident Arkansas will not yield the palm of devotion to these noble States, who have erected monuments to those gallant citizen soldiers. I feel that she scarcely needs the suggestions made, upon this, the first occasion presented to prove herself worthy, through the action of her representatives, of the services of a man whose noble bearing, upon the occasion referred to, has extorted the highest encomiums of his surviving associates in arms, and who has enbalméd his memory in the hearts of his countrymen, and that they will, without hesitation, make a liberal appropriation for the erection of a marble monument, upon the square of the Capitol, in this city; upon which with his own, shall be inscribed the names of every gallant spirit, who accompanied him, and who fell with him upon that ever memorable occasion; with the most profound consideration of the importance of this subject, permit me, most respectfully, to call your attention, and that of the House over which you have the honor to preside, that it may receive its speedy action in the accomplishment of all that may seem to devolve upon the representatives of the people.

With much respect,

I am, sir, yours,

THOS. S. DREW.

On motion of Mr. Smith, said communication was referred to a select committee, consisting of Messrs. Smith, Flourney, Izard, Trapnall, Pettus, Wilson, of Washington, and Martin.

(House Journal, Seventh Session, General Assembly, Arkansas, pp. 188-189, December 7, 1848.)

Mr. Smith made the following report:

Mr. Speaker: The select committee to whom was referred the special message of his excellency, the Governor, recommending an appropriation of money for the purpose of erecting a monument on the State House square to the memory of the gallant Yell, and his brave comrades, who fell at the ever memorable battle of Buena Vista, have duly considered the subject, and instructed me to report that the committee fully concur in the sentiments expressed by his excellency, and recommend the passage of a bill (herewith reported) appropriating one thousand dollars as a contribution on the part of the State to the erection of such a monument. The committee have been informed that about two thousand dollars have been subscribed by citizens for the purpose aforesaid, a large portion of which may be collected by due diligence. The committee think that a thousand dollars on the part of the State, added to private contributions which will probably be collected, will erect a monument which will be creditable to the State, and perpetuate through all time the memories of those brave men of the Arkansas regiment who fell gloriously fighting for their country in a distant land.

SMITH, Chairman.

Which report was read and adopted.

Said bill to be entitled an act to provide for the erection of a monument to the memory of Colonel Yell and his comrades.

Which was read a first time.

On motion of Mr. Smith, the rules were dispensed with, and said bill read a second and third times and passed.

(House Journal, General Assembly, Arkansas, pp. 231-232, December 13, 1848.)

Sec. 7. Be It Further Enacted, That this Act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

T. B. FLOURNOY, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Jefferson County .....$45.00

"STAND OF COLORS AND INSPECTION ROLLS" OF CAPTAIN BORLAND'S, LATER DANLEY'S, COMPANY, PRESENTED TO THE LEGISLATURE BY MRS. B. J. DUVAL FOR THE LADIES OF LITTLE ROCK.

Mr. Stirman made the following report:

Mr. Speaker: The select committee from the joint select committee of both houses appointed to report arrangements for the reception of the stand of colors and inspection roll of Captain C. C. Danley's company, late returned from Mexico, have discharged that duty and instructed me to report the following arrangement:

1. The stand of colors to be returned by Captain Danley to the lady who presented the same, who shall place the same in the hands of F. W. Trapnall, Esq., with an address.
2. Said stand of colors, together with said inspection roll to be presented to the Legislature through its presiding officers by Mr. Trapnall, accompanied by remarks appropriate to the occasion to be responded to by one of the presiding officers, in behalf of the Legislature to be followed by any remarks that gentlemen may see proper to make,
3. Citizens, strangers, and the ladies especially to be invited to be present.
4. Both houses to be in convention in the Representative Hall, all of which is respectfully submitted.

STIRMAN, Chairman, House Committee.

Which was adopted.

(House Journal, Seventh Session, General Assembly, Arkansas, pp. 247-248, December 16, 1848.)

The Senate now appeared in the Representative Hall, and were seated.

Mr. President announced that the object of the convention was to receive the flag and muster-roll of Capt. C. C. Danley's Company, returned from the late Mexican campaign.

Capt. C. C. Danley being present in the Representative hall, returned said flag and muster-roll to Mrs. B. J. Duval, by whom said flag was presented, in behalf of the ladies of Little Rock, to Captain Borland's (afterwards Captain Danley's) company, after which Mrs. Duval presented the same to the General Assembly, through the hands of Mr. Trapnall, member of the House. Said flag and muster-roll were placed by the Speaker of the House in the hands of Hon. D. B. Greer, Secretary of State, to be deposited by him in the archives of the State.

FLAG AND MUSTER-ROLLS OF CAPTAIN PORTER'S, LATER DESHA'S, COMPANY RECEIVED BY THE LEGISLATURE.

Mr. Dye, of the House, laid before the convention, the following communication from F. W. Desha, accompanied by the muster-roll of Captain Andrew D. Porter's company, (afterwards Captain Desha's) in the regiment of Arkansas Cavalry, engaged in active service in the late Mexican war; which muster-roll was ordered to be filed in the office of the Secretary of State, and placed among the archives of the State:

Batesville, Ark., December 27, 1848.

E. C. Dye, Esq.

Sir: Your letter of the 22d inst., informing me of the reception on the part of the Legislature of Arkansas, of the flag of Captain C. C. Danley's company, together with accompanying trophies, and the muster-roll of the company which the gallant and lamented Porter and myself had the honor to command in the arduous and eventful campaign of Mexico, that it might also be presented to the Legislature, as well as placed in the archives of the State, has been received.

Nothing, sir, affords me greater pleasure than to comply with the request which you have so generously made of me. Not that any flattering notice might be made of me, but that justice might be done to him, who poured forth the life blood of his youthful heart, on the altar of his country's glory and honor, and to those brave soldiers, of his, who now sleep their last sleep beneath the barren soil of Buena Vista's field. Our company has no banner wrought by delicate hands, to deposit in the archives of its State, but by its list of killed and wounded, and those who died from disease, incurred beneath the burning rays of Mexico's sun. I hope it has something more enduring, the recollection of a grateful country, and truthful and impartial page of that country's bright and glorious history. It was the fate of our standard bearer (I mean the gallant and faithful Corporal Saunders) to lose the flag, in the desperate encounter of our regiment with the brigade of Mexican cavalry, but he only yielded it up with his life, having received no fewer than seventeen lance wounds in his body.

I am much pleased to hear that the Legislature is about appropriating means for the purpose of erecting a monument to the memory of the chivalrous and lamented Yell, and the brave soldiers who fell with their Colonel.

It will not only be paying a tribute of respect and gratitude to their memories, but it will stimulate after generations to emulate their glorious deeds, and keep alive within every American's bosom, that flame of patriotism and love of military glory, which is so characteristic of us as a Nation.

I have herewith forwarded to you a copy of the original muster-roll of Company D, as the company was received in the regiment. I have furnished a complete list of all the original members of the company, mentioning those who were killed in battle, who died of sickness, who were discharged on account of sickness, etc., who were taken prisoners and who were wounded in battle.

I did not have a printed blank form for rolls, as used in the army and consequently had to make the list out on foolscap paper, which I presume will answer; it is only shown who were in the company, and the casualties that attended it. I have also put down the ages of the officers and men. You will perceive that the most of them, were quite young, there being but few middle aged men in the company. You will, therefore, receive the roll, and do what you think best in the matter.

With sentiments of esteem, I remain, with much respect, your obedient servant.

F. W. DESHA.

E. C. Dye, Esq., Representative from Independence.

Which was read by the Secretary of the Senate.

On motion of Mr. Clark, of the Senate, it was ordered to be placed on the journals of each house, and filed with the roll of the company in the archives of the State.

BANNER PRESENTED TO CAPTAIN ROANE'S, LATER DILLARD'S, COMPANY BY THE LADIES OF VAN BUREN.

The ladies—who are ever forward in every good work, the first to stimulate by their smiles, and beauty, and their encouraging words, the spirit to defend our country—of this town have wrought and presented a banner to the Van Buren Avengers. Praise is needless from us—for since the birth of creation to this hour, have they deserved more praise than our feeble pen can ascribe to them.

On Friday the Van Buren Avengers, drawn up in array in front of Gross's hotel met to receive the pennant which is to float over them in the battle plains of Mexico. The gallery of the hotel was crowded with ladies, the young and beautiful, all animated and giving inspiration and courage to the Crawford Volunteer Company.

The band being escorted by the citizens of the county, with music, to the front of the hotel, then drew up and listened to a song of Liberty sung by the ladies. The song concluded, Miss Julia Stewart of this city delivered in a clear and impressive voice the following address to the company:

"Gentlemen—It is with pride and glowing pleasure that we behold your patriotism. Your country has called on you and most nobly have you crowded to her standard; with all the chivalry and high spirit that animate the free. You have rallied and are now on the eve of a march to Mexico—your enemy. A love of liberty is the strong impulse which has moved you, a thirst for glorious deeds. You have given to your county's service your fire, your zeal, strength and your lives. Bear yourselves with that bravery which will cause glory to settle upon your arms. Although we can not accompany you, still our hearts are penetrated and filled with enthusiasm; our hands are also not inactive.

"Our hearts' wishes will go with you, and we send with you cheering evidences that those who serve or fall in their country's defense will be enshrined in the hearts of their country-women.

"Go to the battle-field; go with ardor, with enthusiasm; we know that you are full of courage to dare and do. Go, and battle for the honor and glory of your country, and remember that there are hearts beating in your homes with anxiety and expectation that you will gloriously sustain the valor, the name and honor of Americans. Acting upon this spirit, we present you with this pennant, worked by our own fingers. May it proudly wave over many a victorious field, and as it sweeps above you in the fierce and stormy hour of contest and carnage, may its bright face tell of the home you left—for the fame and glory for which you struggle and die. The God of Armies speed you."

Three times, three cheers followed the address, when Captain Roane who received the standard returned the eloquent, soldier-like and American answer.

"Ladies—In behalf of the noble youths, who have chosen me to lead them wherever their country may call to protect their honor and avenge her wrongs, I will say we will redeem the high honor conferred, and the distinguished compliment paid us upon this occasion.

"The presentation of this beautiful banner, with the attending circumstances, evinces clearly, that flame of patriotism and chivalry which has ever been the heritage of your sex, still burns brightly and proudly in your hearts, as your well known love of truth and virtue.

"When I look upon the stars and stripes of this beautiful emblem of your country's greatness, as it floats upon the passing breeze, the noblest offering ever made by an American lady to an American soldier—I can but say that its, exquisite workmanship is as honorable to the fair hands which wrought it as the soul and feeling which prompted its presentation is noble—upon its ample folds the same stars which allured, the same stripes which pointed our Revolutionary grandsires, and more recently our fathers, to the goal of victory, liberty and renown, without a star lost or a stripe vanished, call upon us to 'follow.' Beneath the splendid galaxy you have emblazoned for us a motto, 'Try Us.'—In behalf of these young soldier brothers, I repeat it, Try Us. Should there be one among us who shall be found wanting in the hour of peril, I will say let him be accursed, the byword and scoff of his fellows, and worse than all other earthly woes, may he never bask in the sunshine of a fair woman's smiles.

"Ladies, in presenting this banner, you are but presenting it to your sons and your brothers, with injunction to bear it aloft as becomes free-men, patriots and Americans; strictly commanding them with Spartan firmness, to bring it back untarnished, or come not back themselves.

"By my company, I am instructed to say, that should we be overtaken by misfortune and death's horrors, we can only invoke the aid and protection of Almighty God. Should we meet the enemy, we shall also rely upon a strong right arm and patriotic heart. And when we shall have come home again—if to return shall be our happy fate—we pledge you by the deep devotion we entertain for your sex, that this banner now so pure and bright, though it may be soiled by the dust and smoke of contending armies, and stained by the heart's blood of an American patriot, whose spirit takes its flight to heaven, as his body lies by the standard you this day have presented, yet it shall be as free from a speck or blot of dishonor as now, and should it ever pass into the hands of our country's foes, it shall only be when the last man of the Van Buren Avengers is stripped on the battlefield of this his winding sheet.

"Again, ladies, for myself and those I command, I thank you for this distinguished manifestation of your high regard."

The standard was handed to our esteemed and patriotic citizen Leonard Killhou, Esq., with the charge from his Captain to yield it with but his life. Mr. Wilhoff's answer was characteristic of himself. "I hold it." When asked if he was willing to carry the flag, he answered, "If the flag falls, you will find Leonard's body under it."

The Van Buren Avengers have received an impressive and solemn farewell—they have been charged to defend the honor of their country to the last drop of blood which flows in their hearts, and we feel convinced that they will hew themselves a path to victory and fame. The hearts of their countrymen, their fathers, brothers and friends, and, more than all, of mothers, sisters and, perchance, lovers are with them, and accompanied by such cheering thoughts, we know they will dare danger.

CONGRESS ASKED TO PAY FOR ALL HORSES LOST BY ARKANSAS VOLUNTEERS.

Mr. Pettus introduced the following joint preamble and resolution:

Whereas, the laws now in force, intended to provide for the payment of volunteers who may have served in Mexico, the values of such horses as they may have lost, whilst in the service of the United States, have been so construed as to exclude a large majority of those who have sustained such losses;

Therefore, be it resolved, By the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas, That our Senators in Congress be instructed and our Representative requested to procure the passage of a law remunerating all persons who may have lost their horses whilst in the service of the United States, during the existence of the war with Mexico, unless it shall appear, upon investigation, that such loss was the result of inattention or carelessness on the part of the owner.

Which was read first time.

On motion of Mr. Bertrand, the rules of the House were dispensed with, said joint resolution was read a second and third time, and passed.

GRANTS OF BOUNTY LANDS BY THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT TO MEXICAN WAR VETERANS.

It is provided by the ninth section of the act of February 11, 1847, entitled, "An act to raise for a limited time, an additional military force, and for other purposes." and by the act of May 27, 1848, explanatory of said act: "That each non-commissioned officer, musician, or private, enlisted or to be enlisted in the regular army, or regularly mustered in any volunteer company, for a period of not less than twelve months, who has served or may serve during the present war with Mexico, and who shall receive an honorable discharge, or who shall have been killed or died of wounds received, of sickness incurred in the course of such service, or who shall have been discharged before the expiration of his term of service, in consequence of wounds received, or sickness incurred in the course of such service, shall be entitled to receive a certificate or warrant from the War Department for the quantity of one hundred and sixty acres, and which may be located by the warrantee, or his heirs at law, at any land office of the United States, in one body, and in conformity to the legal subdivision of the public lands, upon any of the public lands in such district then subject to private entry; and upon the return of such certificate or warrant, with evidence of the location thereof having been legally made, to the General Land Office, a patent shall be issued therefor. That in the event of the death of any such non-commissioned officer, musician or private, during service, or after his discharge, and before the issuing of a certificate or warrant as aforesaid, the said certificate or warrant shall be issued in favor and inure to the benefit of his family or relatives, according to the following rules: First, to the widow and to his children; second, his father; third, his mother; and fourth, to the brother or sister, or in equal proportions to the brothers and sisters, according to the foregoing order of priority. And in the event of his children being minors, then the legally constituted guardian of such minor children shall, in conjunction with such of the children, if any, as may be of full age, upon being duly authorized by the orphans' or other court having probate jurisdiction, have power to sell, and dispose of such certificate or warrant for the benefit of those interested. And all sales, mortgages, powers or other instruments of writing, going to affect the title or claim to any such bounty right, made or executed prior to the issue of such warrant or certificate, shall be null and void to all intents and purposes whatsoever, nor shall such claim to bounty right be in any wise affected by, or charged with, or subject to, the payment of any debt or claim incurred by the soldier prior to the issuing of such certificate or warrant; provided, that no land warrant issued under the provisions of this act shall be laid upon any lands of the United States to which there shall be a pre-emption right, or upon which there shall be an actual settlement and cultivation; provided, further, that every such non-commissioned officer, musician and private, who may be entitled, under the provisions of this act, to receive a certificate or warrant for one hundred and sixty acres of land, shall be allowed the option to receive such certificate or warrant, or a treasury scrip for one hundred dollars, and such scrip, whenever it is preferred, shall be issued by the Secretary of the Treasury to such person or persons as would be authorized to receive such certificates or warrants for lands; said scrip to bear an interest of 6 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, redeemable at the pleasure of the Government. And that each private, non-commissioned officer, and musician, who shall have been received into the service of the United States, since the commencement of the war with Mexico, for less than twelve months, and shall have served for such term or until honorably discharged, shall be entitled to receive a warrant for forty acres of land, which may be subject to private entry, or twenty-five dollars in scrip, if preferred; and in the event of the death of such volunteer during his term of service, or after an honorable discharge, but before the passage of this act, then the warrant for such land, or scrip, shall issue to the wife, child, or children, if there be any, and, if none, then to the father, and if there be no father, then to the mother of such deceased volunteer; provided, that nothing contained in this section shall be so construed as to give bounty lands to such volunteers as were accepted into service, and discharged without being marched to the seat of war."

It is also provided by the second section of the act of May 27, 1848, that the benefits of the act of February 11, 1847, shall extend to privates and non-commissioned officers who were promoted to the grade of commissioned officers, during their service in Mexico, and who subsequently fulfilled the condition of their engagements; provided, such promotion shall have been made subsequent to the original organization of the company, corps or regiment, to which such privates or non-commissioned officers may have belonged.

Officers and soldiers who were discharged, on account of sickness, before the expiration of their respective terms of service, are also entitled to bounty lands, within the meaning of the above recited laws.

RICHARD M. YOUNG,
Commissioner of the General Land Office.

Agua Nueva, Mexico, January 24, 1847.

The deceased was indebted as follows: To Captain Pike per his order to him from T. W. Newton, for horse furnished, to be deducted out of his pay (bal.), $35.37. To Wm. K. Barnes, by note payable at end of campaign (in Captain's hands), $25, and to Vance Bros. by order in hands of Captain who deducted out of his pay, $29.98, for clothing, etc., furnished as outfit. Also to H. Reynolds, 1st Lt., Co. E., Ark. Vol., $4 for necessities furnished, to John C. Peay, 2d Lt., same Co., $3 for necessities furnished.

ALBERT PIKE,

Capt. Com'g Ark. Vol. Co. E.

Of the above amount, I forwarded per paymaster only $5.25, retaining $26, in part payment of balance due me on horse. That left the balance due me on horse only $9.37, instead of $35.37.

Paymaster, U. S.

P. S.—I regret that I can not draw on New Orleans, but I think exchange is in form of New York, in the former named city.

L. J. B.

Treasury Department, Second Auditor's Office, Dec. 15, 1848.

Sir: I herewith forward you the items of stoppages marked on the muster-roll to be deducted from the pay, etc., due William Patterson, to wit:

Amt. paid by Major J. B. Butler.....	$10.00
Amt. due U. S. for clothing purchased.....	9.38

I think it was stated in letter accompanying account that the muster-roll stated "Effects inventoried and sold for $31.25, money in Captain's hands." But as $5.25 was only received in this office, we could only give credit for that sum, leaving $26 unaccounted for.

Respectfully your obedient servant,

JOHN N. McCALLER,

Second Auditor.

J. E. Knight, Esq., Little Rock, Arkansas.

Washington City, February 1, 1849.

My Dear Knight: Inclosed herewith I send you the Auditor's and Comptroller's certificates of the amount of pay, etc., due O. H. Bilby, deceased, No. 7061, for one hundred and fifty-six dollars and sixty-two cents ($156.62). Auditor's date, January 27, and Comptroller's date, January 31, 1849. As you will see, it is payable by any paymaster.

I congratulate you and Mr. Bilby upon this success through the second Auditor's office, the second instance that has ever come to my knowledge.

Inclosed herewith, also, I send you the land warrant certificate of Philo Hawley, January 30, 1849, No. 43042—of which you and Mr. Woodruff wrote me, and which I have just succeeded, through my friend, in getting out of its order. I hope to get Ladley's in a day or so.

The registry having been completed, so as to guard, in some degree, against frauds, the business of issuing has been resumed, and I hope to get all our cases along with dispatch.

I am very truly yours,

SOLON BORLAND.

Jno. E. Knight, Esq., Little Rock, Arkansas.

Washington, February 3, 1849.

My Dear Knight: Inclosed herewith I send you certificate of Land Warrant No. 44397, February 1, 1849, in the name of Mrs. Temperance Salin, alias Sailing, mother John and George Salin, alias Sailing, which I have just received, upon application made at your request. The others you have forwarded to me, not yet sent, will, I hope, be on their way to you in a day or so. Notification of John England is received, and the certificate, I promised, will come tomorrow.

Yours truly,

SOLON BORLAND.

Mr. Jno. E. Knight, Esq., Little Rock, Arkansas.

Washington, February 9, 1849.

My Dear Knight: I have just received, and herewith enclose you, the last warrant certificate of Mrs. Elijah Casey, mother, etc., of Joseph P. McPherson, deceased, No. 42711, February 7, 1849; Thomas T. Conway, No. 45498, February 7, 1849, and Thomas J. Kelley, No. 45497, February 7, 1849.

A few days since, I received from Kelley what he called additional evidence in support of his claim as Wagon Master. His claim had been already rejected, not for want of evidence, but for want of authority, under the laws and regulations, for the appointment he claims to have held. This was the decision of the department. Thus, barred by the law, his only reliance would be upon the equity of his claim. This last I can not, in my conscience, exact; and, therefore, can not, in good faith, ask Congress to stretch a blanket over him. I have written him to this effect, and I think he will understand me.

I sent you, today, the work on phonographic stenography. There is another volume, for advanced learners, which I hope to receive in a few days, and will send you.

I have been very unwell, for two days—cold, headache, and, as the French doctor says, a feeling of General Malaise.

My kind regards to Mrs. Knight and the "boys."

Yours faithfully,

SOLON BORLAND.

Mr. Jno. E. Knight, Esq., Little Rock, Arkansas.

Pension Office, February 10, 1849.

Sir: In the case of Thomas Cooney, deceased, I have the honor to inform you, that before a bounty land warrant can issue to him or his children, they must produce the certificate of a court of record, having probate jurisdiction, or of a magistrate, founded on the testimony of two credible witnesses certified to be such by said magistrate, whose official character and genuine signature must be credited by the clerk of a court of record, under his seal of office, setting forth that they (naming them), are the only surviving children of the deceased soldier, and that he left no widow surviving him. Printed instructions are herewith enclosed.

I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

I. G. BUNT,

For Comm. of Pension.

Hon. S. Borland, U. S. Senate.

Washington, February 11, 1849.

My Dear Knight: I have just received the inclosed papers from the Pension Office. I sent them to you, in order that you may see what to do in the case.

My indisposition of which I spoke in my last, though not now so severe, continues to an uncomfortable degree. The climate here, the worst in the world, I believe, don't agree with me. I have, almost constantly, sore throat, pain in my heart, etc.—what if I, too, were in a little while to follow into the grave, "the footsteps of my illustrious predecessors?"

What a commentary upon ambition, and the struggle it induces us to engage in! And yet it is not an unlikely fate.

My kind regards to your family, and, believe me, faithfully,

Your friend,

SOLON BORLAND.

Jno. E. Knight, Esq., Little Rock, Arkansas.

---

Washington, February 14, 1849.

Dear Knight: Enclosed herewith, I send you the certificates of Land Warrant for Stephens Crain, No. 46604, and Wm. H. Jones, No. 47181, both February 13, 1849.

I wrote you the cause of delay in the cases of the heirs of Cooney, and of Oliver Barney.

In Peay's case there may yet be a delay of a few days, but not many, however, I hope. Zare Weem's applications will, I hope, be through in a day or so.

These I now send you and the three mentioned above, are all of your land warrant cases.

In the case of Crain, be pleased to deliver his warrant to him without charges—I will pay it for him. He is exceedingly poor—and Bob Johnson treated him so badly, I am not willing to see him lose any more.

Yours truly,

BORLAND.

Jno. E. Knight, Esq., Little Rock, Arkansas.

Washington, March 1, 1849.

My Dear Knight: Enclosed herewith, I send you seven drafts of Corcoran & Higgs on the Bank of America, N. Y., payable to L. J. Beall, and endorsed by him to Jno. E. Mayfield; No. 580, February 27, 1849, $24, for Jacob Scheitza; No. 579, February 27, 1849, $24, for Rufus R. Drake; No. 578, February 27, 1849, $24, for David Anderson; No. 582, February 27, 1849, $24, for Micajah H. Parker; No. 581, February 27, 1849, $24, for Alex Chew—all for the three months' extra pay.

I have just received them, and send them to you. In haste,

Yours truly,

SOLON BORLAND.

Jno. E. Knight, Esq., Little Rock, Arkansas.

P. S.—I also send you Land Warrant Certificate No. 48577, February 28, 1849, for Zare Weems, as a member of Captain Mear's Company.

I have just moved and had added an appropriation of $30,000 for completing and repairing Fort Gibson. This is on the bill for fortifications. This bill has just passed the Senate. March 1, 1849, 7 o'clock p. m.

Washington, March 2, 1849.

My Dear Knight: Enclosed herewith I send you certificate of Land Warrant No. 48726, March 1, 1849, for Mrs. Missey R. Parrish, widow and heir of Charles L. Parrish, deceased, which I have just received.

Yours truly,

BORLAND.

Dear Knight: Inclosed, I send Corcoran & Higgs's draft on Bank of America, N. Y., No. 1236, March 9, 1849, $24, to L. J. Beall, on order, and endorsed by him to you. It is for three months' extra pay to Jacob Walker, which you sent me in December. The application was made December 15, and is just now paid, as the rolls have but recently been returned.

Washington, March 20, 1849.

Dear Knight: Looking over some Arkansas cases the other day with one of the clerks in the Second Auditor's office, upon memorandum of my own, I found the case of Mrs. Eagle, sent by you. Though you had not requested my attention to it. I took the liberty of assuming it as one of the cases under my care, and requested the clerk to attend to it at onc, and send me the result. This he has promptly done, and I have this moment received it in the form of a treasury certificate, of yesterday (19th), No. 7484, for $41.31, payable to your order, as attorney for Mrs. Eagle. I herewith enclose it.

Yours very truly,

SOLON BORLAND.

Jno. E. Knight, Esq., Little Rock, Arkansas.

Hot Springs, June 15, 1849.

My Dear Knight: I received by last mail, from Paymaster Hunter, and herewith enclose you, seven drafts from Corcoran & Higgs on Bank of America, N. Y., payable to order of D. Hunter, and endorsed by him to you—one for John G. Gale, $21, and one each for Joseph Eagle, I. W. Davis, Wm. H. Jones, Hiram McFall, Adam Schlatter and Moses W. Dunlap, $24, all for three months' extra pay. Also a similar draft, for $63, payable to my order, and endorsed by me, for extra pay of E. A. Chubb, C. L. Parish and Geo. Salin.

These are the claims, you will recollect, which I sent back for you, when I was at Little Rock. The proceeds have come sooner than I expected. I find my old friend Hunter, with whom I served in Mexico, is now paying at Washington. Things go like clock work through his hands, though, indeed, the whole pay department of the army is well and promptly managed. Would that we could say as much for the other executive officers of the Government.

Enclosed I also send you Maj. Martin Andrew's letter in answer to our request for a re-examination of D. Moor's case. It turned out about as I expected.

I am glad the Memphis convention has been postponed to the 16th of October. It could not have been held on the 4th of next month, nor, indeed can it until the cholera abates. I think I mentioned this while I was with you.

The health of my wife continues bad. She is not able to be out of bed today. Our babe has also been indisposed for more than a week past—quite ill for some 24 hours. I was also in bed with fever the most of last week, and Mrs. Melbourne is now sick. The rest of the family are well, if, indeed, you can imagine many more.

Under these circumstances, you may well suppose I am not in the best spirits in the world—nor able to do much in the way of business as a Congressman. Though confined at home, I am getting behind with my correspondence. I fear some of my friends are beginning to think me remiss.

We hear out here that the cholera is devouring the small remnant of the people of Little Rock which the smallpox, in its mercy spared. God help you all, for I suppose you need it.

Present me kindly to your family, to Mr. Woodruff and his, and to Danley, Peyton, etc. Acknowledge receipt of drafts, and oblige.

Yours faithfully,

SOLON BORLAND.

My Dear Knight: Your application for Wm. H. Cherry's extra pay was duly sent to P. M. Gen. Contrary to expectation, instead of sending it directly to you, Maj. Hunter sent draft on Bank. N. Y., for the amount of $24, No. 2277, Dec. 13, 1849, to me, payable to my order. I have this moment received it, indorsed it in blank, and herewith send it to you. Acknowledge receipt and oblige.

Yours in haste, but truly,

Sir: Herewith the papers enclosed in yours of the 28th ultimo are returned, together with the Bounty Land Certificate of Job Broughton No. 33665. The other certificate to which you referred in the last as well as a pension communication, has not hitherto returned as a dead letter.

Washington, March 1, 1850.

Dear Sir: I am only in receipt of your letter of February 6, covering the letter of the Commissioner of Pensions of August 25, 1849, concerning the bounty land certificate of Stephen Red, and Job Broughton, and immediately made application to the commissioner. In response, he sent me the notification, and referred me to the Com. Gen. land affairs for certificate. I made the application to the latter, and have just received his response, and one certificate, Broughton's (the other not having yet been returned to him), and herewith inclose them to you, also the letter of Commissioner of Pensions, February 23, the letter of Com. Gen'l Ld. affair, of this date, and Broughton's Land Certificate, No. 33665, October 31, 1848.

I am respectfully your obedient servant,

SOLON BORLAND.

Washington, March 2, 1850.

Dear Sir: Your letter of February 9, covering the application of Willis Lane, for extra pay, was received February 27, and immediately forwarded to the paymaster. I have this moment received his draft for the amount, and herewith inclose it to you, viz., Major D. Hunter's draft, No. 3144, this date, $21, on Bank of New York, payable to my order, and indorsed by me, in blank.

The proof of service of which you expressed some doubt, was, it seems, sufficient.

Respectfully your obedient servant,

SOLON BORLAND.

Jno. E. Knight, Esq., Little Rock, Arkansas.

Washington, February 4, 1851.

Dear Sir: Your letter of January 15, covering Mrs. Sally Russell's claim for bounty land, and extra, and arrearage of pay, as mother and heir of Elijah Russell, and also Col. Isace Russell's letter, was received on the 23th of January. The claims were at once referred to their appropriate officer—the bounty land claim to Commissioner of Pensions, and the pay claim to Second Auditor. I have not yet received answer to the land claim. As soon as I do, you shall be informed.

From the Second Auditor I have just received and herewith inclose you, the admitted claim for extra pay and arrearages, with an order upon any paymaster for the amount $42.14; being Treasury Warrant, etc., No. 14944, February 3, 1851, payable to your order, as attorney. This is the only form in which the Second Auditor makes payment of such claims. When extra pay was paid to the paymaster department here, such receipts as you sent would have secured payment here. Since all such are now transferred to Second Auditor and blended, he pays, as you here see, with your signature to the receipt as attorney, the draft, as it stands, will be good for cash at Fort Smith, New Orleans, or wherever there is a paymaster.

I am very respectfully yours,

SOLON BORLAND.

Mr. Jno. E. Knight, Esq., Little Rock, Arkansas.
